DEMOCRATS ARE READY FOR FRAY

Principal Contest in Convention Will Be Over National Committeeman.

FIGHT ON TO A FINISH

King, Wallace and Alder Are Thought to Be in the Lead.

The Democratic state convention, fo the election of delegates to the Demeratic national convention, and also fo the election of a national committeema will be called to order in the Sait Lake theater at II o'clock this morning.

While it is generally believed that th delegates to the national convention wil be for Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, the presidential contest has largely been lost sight of in the fight over the office national committeeman. The leaders In the committeeman contest, taken from the latest advices available, are Major Samuel A. King, George D. Alder and W. R. Wallace, with such well-known men as C. L. Olsen, Ashby Snow and Noble Warrum in the race as receptive candidates. It also is understood that James H. Moyle, former state chairmannow in Europe, would not object to being named as national committeeman, and a letter from Mr. Moyle, in the hands of a friend in this city may be read today, in which the writer makes known his desire. Those well versed in the political game, however, as it is played by the Democracy in Utah, believe that the contest lies between Major King, W. R. Wallace and George D. Alder.

Clinion D. Ray, who is actively interested in Major King's campaign, predicts that the major, will be elected on the first ballot. u as C. L. Olsen, Ashby Snow and Discussing his candidacy vesterday, Mr. Alder said that he had entered the contest at the solicitation of friends, who had urged that this position had been fairly carned by his twenty years of catnest, active support of the Democracy; the more so because, during this entire pseiod, he had always been simply a worker and never a seeker for political preferment.

"If I am selected as national committeeman, Mr. Alder said. "I shall be absoluted any promises in advance of my selection. It will be my policy, if selected as national committeeman, to shar man, and don't propose to make any promises in advance of my selection. It will be my policy, if selected as national committeeman, to refer all important appointments either to the state of county committee, or to the bedry of the Democratic party, as may seem best in the judgment of the Democrats of the state. Always it will be my effort to respect in my recommendations for effect the will of the majority of the Democratic party. I do not wish the position because of the power it might give me personally, because I do not expect to wield any power artitrarily, but to act in accord with the wish of my party as I have indicated."
